
In this guide you will find the eligibility requirements for potential financial resources that are available to low vision and blind undergraduate and graduate students within all U.S. states, territories, and the District of Columbia. The volunteers of the Children and Youth Support and Outreach Team part of the Council of Citizens with Low Vision International (CCLVI) researched and organized this information. Each state and territory was contacted through phone and email in order to receive the information. Our goal was that each state and territory would have provided complete answers to our questions found within Part 1, however, we hope to achieve this goal in the coming year as we receive public feedback. Therefore, if you would like to lend additional information or suggestions to this document, please message us on our Facebook page, Low Vision Youth Connections at https://www.facebook.com/Low-Vision-Youth-Connections-108396660924525 or email the chair of the team, Amanda Brinton at amanda.brinton@cclvi.org. This document was last updated in 2020. Most information can be found through each state's department of rehabilitation however, some states have this information under other entities such as division of blind services, commission for the blind, etc.

Part 1 – Fully Answered State Questions

Arkansas

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Division of Services for the Blind offers financial assistance to eligible consumers based upon their individual employment outcomes. Assistance for advanced degrees requires approval from the Division of Services for the Blind Field Administrator.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer The Arkansas Division of Services for the Blind is a state vocational rehabilitation agency established to serve blind and visually impaired individuals in this state. In order to receive services from this agency, an individual must be classified in one of the following categories:

- Total blindness – any permanent visual condition resulting in a total loss of vision

- Legal blindness – a visual acuity for distance vision in the best eye with the best correction of 20/200 or less OR the widest diameter of visual field subtending an angle of less than 20 degrees

- Visually impaired – a progressive visual condition with a visual acuity of 20/50 in the best eye after correction, which may result in total or legal blindness, OR imminent danger that the individual may become totally or legally blind

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer A sliding fee scale based on income will be used to determine the portion of academic training expenses Division of Services for the Blind will pay and the portion the consumer will be responsible for paying. An individual’s economic need will not be used to determine eligibility for Vocational Rehabilitation services or payment for any other Vocational Rehabilitation services. Consumers whose considered income before taxes is $60,000.00 or below are eligible for up to 100% of their academic training expenses to be paid in accordance with other policy guidelines, such as comparable benefits. Consumers whose considered income is greater than this will be required to pay a portion of the costs of their academic training based on the sliding fee scale below:

- $60,000.01 to $70,000.00 eligible for up to 75%
- $70,000.01 to $80,000.00 eligible for up to 50%
- $80,000.01 to $100,000.00 eligible for up to 25%

Consumers whose considered income is above $100,000 will not be eligible for payment of academic training expenses, except for the list of income-disregarded services.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer Division of Services for the Blind may not impose any durational or other residence requirement that excludes any individual who is present in the state. Therefore, any consumer who is in the state at the time they are requesting services, may receive any services for which they are eligible.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer If a consumer chooses to attend an out-of-state college/university, the maximum amount payable would be the same as that which would have been paid in-state. The consumer would be responsible for paying any cost difference.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer Case by case base depending on financial analysis

Colorado

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer The program will pay up to the doctoral level

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer 20/70 or worse in the better eye, or totally blind
3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer Income Financial needs analysis of each student will be conducted. If the student is above the financial income level, they do have to contribute financially.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer No residency is required, however, the student can share tuition expenses with their state's division of blind services or vocational rehabilitation with Colorado's department.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Appropriate costs – If the student has the option to go to a private in-state university or a public in-state university, the program will pay for the less expensive of the two options. If the academic program doesn’t exist anywhere else, the funding will pay for the full academic program tuition.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer Depends on the specific individual
Florida

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Program may cover the graduate level tuition if the degree is needed to obtain the career goal of the individual.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer 20/70 or worse in better eye. Exceptions can be made but vision has to be an impediment to employment. There can also be a visual field loss but needs to be an impediment to employment.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer No financial income stipulations. The program expects clients to use comparable benefits. The individual needs to complete Free Application for Federal Student Aid and if the individual receives the Pell grant, they would need to first apply the grant to tuition. The program encourages students to apply for scholarships.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? If yes, how much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer The individual has to have a Florida address.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?
Answer Depending on client’s major. Florida promotes the idea that students attend the closest institution to their place of residence. Therefore, if there is a college close to the residence but it does not offer the desired major, the program would pay for the student to go to a further institution in the state that offers the major.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money/credit hours? Does it cover book fees and other school fees?

Answer The program covers a minimum of 12 hours of credits and may be able to cover more than 12 hours. The program may cover book and other fees if financially eligible.

Illinois

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation is able to provide financial contribution for post-secondary training for customers who are eligible. They should show economic need per the financial analysis, demonstrate the potential for success, and require the training to obtain the required industry recognized credentials for the individual customer’s employment outcome goals. Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation provides financial contributions for undergraduate and graduate degrees. The funding can also cover doctorate degrees in order to obtain the individual’s career goals.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation is a combined agency, serving all individuals determined eligible. Within the agency is a Bureau of Blind Services Bureau of Blind Services provides services to individuals who are blind or visually impaired. We follow the functional impairment model rather than the medical model. A person with a visual loss is served through Vocational Rehabilitation if their condition seriously limits a specified number of functional capacities and requires multiple Vocational Rehabilitation services over an extended period of time.
The areas of assessment are below

Section 553.150  Determination of Serious Limitation to Functional Capacities should include, a. For the purpose of determination of the degree of significance of disability, functional capacities shall include:

1. mobility the physical ability of an individual to move from place to place and move the body into certain positions. This includes such activities as: walking, climbing, kneeling, stooping, sitting, standing, and similar activities;

2. self-care the ability of an individual to perform activities related to his or her health and hygiene. This includes such activities as: grooming, bathing, eating, housekeeping, medical management, and money management;

3. self-direction the ability of an individual to organize, control and regulate his or her own personal, social, and work life. This includes such activities as: maintaining schedules and routines, following directions and established rules, organizing activities for oneself, and adjusting to changing circumstances;

4. work skills the ability of an individual to demonstrate skills necessary to perform jobs that exist in the current employment market, regardless of demand for the particular occupation or the individual's prior work experience. This includes such activities as: learning and maintaining work skills, cooperating with others in a work setting, using adequate decision making and problem solving skills, and using academic skills commonly required in the workplace;

5. work tolerance the ability of an individual to consistently and adequately perform a job based on the physical, emotional, environmental, and psychological demands of a specific work environment. This includes such activities as: maintaining performance on the job regardless of changes in environment such as cold and heat, demonstrating the strength and endurance to perform the job in question, and working the schedule typical of other employees in the same job;

6. Interpersonal skills the ability of an individual to establish and maintain appropriate relationships with other individuals in the workplace. This includes such activities as: engaging in necessary work-related communications, demonstrating behavior that is appropriate and acceptable in the work environment, cooperating with others in a team setting, and showing understanding and tact in dealing with others; and

7. communication the ability to convey and receive information efficiently and effectively. This includes such activities as: hearing and understanding ordinary spoken language; making one's self understood in ordinary conversation; writing or printing short notes and communications; and reading and correctly interpreting short notes, signs, and instructions.

b. A serious limitation to a functional capacity shall exist when it is determined by the rehabilitation counselor or instructor that the customer, because of his or her disability, has functional limitations in performing the major components of the activity or activities listed in subsections (a)(1) through (7) or needs accommodation to perform the activity.

c. The rehabilitation counselor or instructor shall use the criteria of consistency and substantiality when evaluating the degree of limitation to functional capacity. Consistency means that the individual's disability always or almost always limits the individual's functioning. Substantiality means the individual's disability has a major, significant impact on functioning and that the individual cannot perform the activity or finds it very difficult to perform the activity.
3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer Individuals who receive Social Security Income or Social Security Disability Insurance based on their disability do not financially contribute to “cost” services. A financial analysis is completed for all other customers. Based on the results of the analysis, a customer may need to financially contribute to post-secondary education. All customers who have relocated to attend Post-Secondary Education are required to pay for the basic cost of living toward their shelter and meal plan. The monthly current basic cost of living for shelter is $198.00 and for meal plan is $189.00. Customers continue to receive Vocational Rehabilitation financial contributions for PSE as long as they remain in good standing with the instruction higher education. Should they fall below the required GPA, Vocational Rehabilitation will provide funding for one more term in which they must raise the GPA to that required by the instruction higher education for the specified major or a cumulative 2.0 on a 4.0 scale. All customers must complete Free Application for Federal Student Aid and receive an award/denial letter from the IHE prior to the start date of the term. Failure to comply results no Vocational Rehabilitation funding.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state?

Answer Rehabilitation Services Administration prohibits residency requirements. Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation is able to provide services to an individual who provides information necessary to initiate an assessment to determine eligibility and is available to complete the application process.

Illinois Division of Blind Services can serve an individual who lives in-state or out-of-state or who plans to attend an institution in-state or out-of-state as long as the individual can travel to Illinois and meet with the Division of Blind Services in order to create the Individualized Plan for Employment plan. However, Illinois will only pay tuition costs up to the maximum amount of what Division of Blind Services would cover for in-state Illinois institutions.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer The following responses are given with the consideration that all relevant conditions have been met (eligibility, financial, Free Application for Federal Student Aid, etc.. Vocational Rehabilitation is able to provide 100% (less comparable benefits) for tuition, fees, required books and supplies and $25.00 for consumable supplies for state operate IHE. Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation is able to provide funding to out-of-state or private IHEs holding appropriate credentials at a maximum rate determined annually.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money/credit hours? Does it cover book fees and other school fees?

Answer Response are given with an understanding that all conditions described above are met. Illinois Rehabilitation provides 100% for tuition, fees, required books and supplies (syllabus must verify) and $25.00 for consumable supplies per term. Consumable supplies are items such as paper, pens, folders. Vocational Rehabilitation is able to provide funding for expenses that are required by all students – activity fees, technology fees, etc. Illinois Vocational Rehabilitation will provide financial contribution for up to three years to assist a customer in achieving an associate degree or to reach junior standing. Customers have an additional three years to achieve a bachelor's degree.

All services with Vocational Rehabilitation are provided on an individual basis, based on their unique interests, abilities, capabilities, priorities, concerns and informed choice. Vocational Rehabilitation is able to assist individuals with pursuing post-secondary education as needed for them to achieve their vocational goal. We are not a financial aid or entitlement program.

1. Does your state offer financial assistance for visually impaired students seeking post-secondary education programs? If so, is it limited to the undergraduate level?

Answer: For individuals who need post-secondary training to achieve their vocational goal, Vocational Rehabilitation may be able to provide financial assistance.

2. Are there vision requirements? If so, what are they?

Answer: Vocational Rehabilitation is an eligibility program. To be eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation, the individual must have a disability that causes an impediment to employment and they must want to work. The individual’s disability may be physical, mental or cognitive.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? If so, what are those stipulations?

Answer For individuals whose Individualized Plan for Employment lists training as a service, the client must apply for federal financial aid. The college provides an award letter which identifies available aid such as grants and expected family contribution. Vocational Rehabilitation has a higher ed worksheet that is completed with the individual which identifies the amount of financial assistance Vocational Rehabilitation will provide for the semester.

4. Does that student need to be a state resident to receive financial assistance to attend a school in your state? If so, what is the time required?

Answer Vocational Rehabilitation does not have a residency requirement.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer As long as the individual is able to achieve the degree needed to achieve their vocational goal, Vocational Rehabilitation does not limit the approved school.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer That is based on the individual’s higher ed worksheet.
Ohio

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Support for post-secondary training is granted in accordance with the agreed upon goal outlined in the Individual Plan for Employment. What level of education is needed is determined by the labor market and industry standard.

2. What are the vision requirements? The Vocational Rehabilitation program does not require specific acuities or field deficits in order to be considered eligible. Eligibility is based on three factors:

Answer A visual impairment or blindness results in substantial impediment to employment;

You can benefit from services in terms of an employment outcome; and Vocational rehabilitation services are necessary for you to prepare, secure, retain or regain employment.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations? Financial support is influenced by the information supplied on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid needs to be submitted by October. and the resulting Student Aid

Answer Report student aid report, including the Estimated Family Contribution. In most cases, the individual must meet their Estimated Family Contribution prior to Opportunities for Ohioans with Disabilities providing financial support for tuition. Exceptions are made for individuals who received social security benefits.
Individuals must also maintain their eligibility for federal educational grants.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer An individual is required to show that they have a “presence in Ohio” to be eligible for the Vocational Rehabilitation program.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Students are able to select any university they wish to attend, however financial support is based on tuition rates at the closest state support school. Community college for the first 2 years, and university rates for the remaining years of education.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer Financial support is based on tuition rates at the closest state support school. (Community college for the first 2 years, and university rates for the remaining years of education).
Oregon

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer The program offers assistance to both undergraduate and graduate students.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer The vision requirements are 20/200 in the better eye or visual field of 20% or less. People with vision better than 20/200 may be considered depending on plans for employment or if the individual has a rapidly deteriorating progressive condition that leads to legal blindness.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer The Individual is required to apply for FAFSA.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? If yes, how much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer The individual has to be present in the state, generally requiring a state address.
5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer: The tuition financial assistance will only cover a tuition amount that would be paid at an in-state public school. Therefore, if the individual wants to attend a private school, the maximum amount that would be paid at a public school will be paid.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money/credit hours? Does it cover book fees and other school fees?

Answer: There is no limit of tuition costs that can be covered. However, coverage is considered on a case-by-case basis. The program will generally only cover tuition, fees, and books.

Oklahoma

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer: Undergraduate and graduate students, appropriate to the individual and their employment goal. The end result must be employment.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer: Corrected visual acuities greater than 20/60; or sight which is so ineffective as to seriously limit the ability to engage in the ordinary vocations and activities of life; or vision that meets the definition of legally blind, which is a visual acuity of 20/200 or less in the better eye with best correction, or a visual field of 20 degrees or less.
3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer: There are services which are based on economic need, and sponsorship of training is one of them. It is based on the number of people and the amount of income in the household.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer: Oklahoma does not have a residency requirement but the student would have to be available to meet with the counselor and make adequate progress in the case. Again any services we provide would have to result in employment, and Oklahoma would need to secure documentation of the wages for about a year after the client becomes employed.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer: There are different policies depending on the “type” of university attended. If a training is available in-state, we generally will not pay for a student to attend an out of state or private university unless there is proof that the degree is not available in our state. In that case, we can only pay Oklahoma state rate for tuition.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer: Again, it depends on the type of training facility; state or regional, private or public, etc. Books and fees may be covered. All students are expected to apply for and utilize comparable benefits, the most common being Pell Grant (by submitting a FAFSA form). If a student has an economic “surplus” or income over our guidelines, they will have to participate in the cost of services in that amount. According to policy, this is applicable every 30 days in which we are paying for services. Remember, DRS is an eligibility program and not an entitlement program so we have to secure the medical documentation to determine the level of disability a person has before determining if we can even pay for any of these types of services.

Pennsylvania

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer It is for both undergraduate and graduate students along with business training and technical programs.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer All referred individuals whose primary disability is blindness or other visual impairment should be referred to Blindness and Visual Services. Visual acuity is no greater than 20/70 in the better eye with best correction and/or a restricted visual field of less than a 20-degree field of vision in the better eye or is no greater than 20/70 in the better eye with best correction and/or a significant visual field restriction, along with the prognosis for future vision loss.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?
Answer There are financial guidelines and they are outlined in the program’s college policy. The policy in summary states that for non-Social Security Income Social Security Disability Insurance customers, receiving financial aid for college training it is necessary to complete a financial needs test online document, only if the customer needs services other than college training. For non-Social Security Income Social Security Disability Insurance customers, individuals need to use the financial needs test to determine financial eligibility and family contribution for Blind Technology Teaching training. The yearly family contribution may be pro-rated per term. The Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor will complete the forms and discuss Financial Needs Test with the customer.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer Eligibility is based on: Does the applicant have an impairment, Does their impairment and resulting functioning create an impediment to employment, Do they require Vocational Rehabilitation services. Can they benefit from services in terms of an employment outcome.

Tennessee

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Funding covers undergraduate tuition. Funding will cover graduate tuition if the individual needs graduate certification to accomplish their career goals.
2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer Funding covers both low vision and legally blind individuals. The eye condition has to be at least 20/50 in the best eye or no greater than 40 degree in the best eye or the individual has a progressive condition.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer Program requires a financial needs assessment which will consider how many people live in the home and what is the household income.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer The student would need to be a Vocational Rehabilitation customer of their “home state” Vocational Rehabilitation. Then we would be able to collaborate with that Vocational Rehabilitation agency to assist the student. Financial assistance would be considered on a case-by-case basis where the costs for financially eligible students would be negotiated between the two Vocational Rehabilitation agencies after any student grant/scholarship award amounts had been applied. A hypothetical example would be that a student from North Carolina would have tuition covered by North Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation, and books and supplies covered by Tennessee Vocational Rehabilitation.
5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Only public institution tuition is covered fully, if students attend a private institution, tuition will only be covered as much as comparable to a public institution.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of credit hours/money or does it cover full tuition costs. Does it also cover books and other fees? Full tuition is covered.

Answer Book and other school fees may also be covered in addition to full-time tuition is covered in Tennessee.

Answer Within the program, undergraduate students can be approved by the rehabilitation counselor, however, graduate students need a higher level of approval.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer The program requires a vision level of 20/70 in the better eye or 30 degrees or less in peripheral level in the better eye. However, if the student has better visual acuity but has limited functionality that causes challenges to employment, they can also be eligible.
3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer If a person has Social Security Income or Social Security Disability Insurance, that individual won’t have to contribute to the services. However, if the individual is not receiving this support, they will be asked to provide income information and depending, the program may ask that the individual help to pay for services which is based on a sliding scale.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? If yes, how much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer The individual has to be living in Utah and have an address in Utah.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Public schools are covered in the state, however, if the student wants to attend a private school the student has to have a much higher level of approval the program and the institution has to be on the list of vendors.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money credit hours? Does it cover book fees and other school fees?

Answer The individual’s tuition and books may be covered. The program will have the client apply for the Pell grant and the program will ask the individual to first cover fees with the Pell grant and then the program will cover the remainder of the costs. The program can cover full-time credit hours but it can cover fewer than full-time credit hours.
Texas

Texas has a “Certificate of Blindness” that its tuition program is based on. There is a possibility that students that do not have the “certificate” can be covered by these services but it is decided on a case by case basis without the certificate.

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Funding is provided depending on the individual’s vocational goal and if the individual needs an advanced degree in order to obtain their career goals.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer The student has to be Legally blind meaning 20/200 in best eye or 20 degrees or less of visual field or 20/70 in the best eye and progressively getting worse. However, to apply for vocational services, an individual has to have barriers to working.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer The program considers the basic living requirement. The individual needs to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid documentation. If the individual doesn’t qualify for Free Application for Federal Student Aid, the program would consider how much it can pay for the individual.
4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? If yes, how much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer In order to receive tuition exemption, the student has to be an in-state resident, and therefore, has to live in Texas for 12 months.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Certificate of blindness only covers in-state universities. If an individual goes to a private university, the funding can’t cover more money than what is equal to 120 credit hours at an in-state school.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money/credit hours or does it cover full tuition costs? Does it cover book and other school fees?

Answer With the Certificate of Blindness, funding can only cover 120 hours total for undergraduate students. Certificate only covers tuition and tuition fees. If a student doesn’t have the Certificate of Blindness, the agency will see what scholarships are applicable for that individual but won’t force students to take out loans.
Washington

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Decisions towards the type of services offered, such as support towards higher education or vocational training programs, are individualized and dependent on the vocational goal.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer In order to be eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation services from the Washington State Department of Services for the Blind, an individual must demonstrate functional limitations to employment due to their visual disability which aren’t resolved through use of corrective lenses. The functional limitations must require substantial services over time, and must be services within the scope of our federal grant and the services lead to the employment goal. Acuity is considered but is not the determiner for eligibility. In fact, a person may have no residual vision whatsoever and found ineligible, if they have all their adaptive skills mastered and have resolved any functional limitations to employment due to their visual disability.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer Eligibility and services do not have a financial needs requirement.
4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer We support Washington residents and those residents in state-border areas who are able to meet with the agency staff in person and locally.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer If higher education is part of the necessary set of services for a vocational goal, we can provide tuition support up to an equivalent amount that might be expended at a local state university of Washington or Washington State University. In-state programs have primary consideration. Comparable benefits and financial aid are considered as the first and primary source for tuition supports before agency supports can be made available.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer The program covers full tuition. For more information about the scope of our services can be found in our program policy, within the Washington Administrative Code 67-25.
West Virginia

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer The program looks at the individual’s career goal. If the career goal requires a master's degree, this level of degree would be considered. Medical schools and law schools are options depending on individual basis.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer Visual acuity of 20/50 in the best eye, or angle of vision or 60 degrees or less in better eye, or the person has a degenerative eye condition.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer Economic need policy is enforced which uses standard exemptions. Free Application for Federal Student Aid information is required from the individual.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer There are no residential requirements.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer The academic institutions have to be approved, accredited, and a vendor of the agency. The funding won’t go

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer Funding covers 30 hours or more per year. The funding covers some book fees and pays basic tuition fees.

Virginia

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer The program can cover individuals at both the undergraduate and graduate level. However, if a student wants to be supported at the graduate level, the individual needs to show that the degree will advance the person’s career and show that they have had success working in their field after graduating from an undergraduate program. The student’s career goal has to be discussed with and approved by the program counselor.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer The program considers functional limitations when deciding if an individual is eligible.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer The program requires Free Application for Federal Student Aid documentation and looks at Expected Family Contribution and depending on these factors and other scholarships received, an individual may be required to financially contribute depending on a standard cost of participation policy. If an individual receives Social Security Income and Social Security Disability Insurance, they are not expected to financially contribute.

4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? If yes, how much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer As long as an individual is available to participate in services in Virginia, they are eligible. Therefore, they are not required to have a Virginia address but need to be able to travel to the state to meet with program employees such as individuals who live in bordering states or who have family living in the state and who may plan to live in Virginia after graduation. As usual, eligibility is decided on a case-by-case basis.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer The program requires that any institution that is covered financially is on an approved list of vendor institutions which are accredited programs and universities. The program looks at what institution is the best financial option. Therefore, if a private institution is preferred over a public institution, only the maximum costs of a public state institution will be applied and the individual will have to cover the rest of the expenses.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money/credit hours? Does it cover book fees and other school fees?
The program can potentially cover all costs including tuition, fees, books, transportation, and housing costs but the amount of costs that can be covered is decided on an individual basis.

Wisconsin

1. If the state has financial assistance programs, is it just at the undergraduate level?

Answer Funding can potentially cover graduate students. According to the agency “Everything is determined on a case-by-case basis depending on the individual's disability, job goal, and circumstances. There are occasions where advanced training could potentially be supported.

2. What are the vision requirements?

Answer There are no specific vision requirements. It depends on the individual's disability itself and the amount of functional limitations that determines eligibility for Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

3. Are there financial income stipulations? What are those stipulations?

Answer The grant amount will depend on the individual’s remaining financial need after financial aid is determined based on information the individual entered in their Free Application for Federal Student Aid, not to exceed $5,000. An individual can submit an Exception Request if they feel they require more funds than the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation training grant. However, individuals need to be aware that additional funds can cause an over award and a potential need for repayment to the school.
4. Does that student technically have to be an in-state resident in order to receive financial assistance to attend a school in that state? How much time do they have to live in the state to be a resident?

Answer According to the agency, typically, the student applies for services in the state where they have primary residence.

5. Are only certain universities covered? If so, what are those universities or what are the rules about tuition at specific types of universities?

Answer Students can attend any college in Wisconsin.

6. Does the tuition program only cover a certain amount of money or does it cover full tuition costs?

Answer According to the agency, "After the Financial Aid award information is provided, the calculated Department of Vocational Rehabilitation Training Grant is not to exceed $2,500 per academic term or $5,000 per academic year for full time attendance, as defined by the institution. Up to $208.34 per credit for part-time attendance can be granted. Graduate school will be calculated at $277.78 per credit.
